

CU Physics Department Colloquium

Monday, October 31, 2011 4:10 PM 428 Pupin Hall

Relics from the Bang

Clues about what led to the hot big bang are encoded in the properties of the structures that can be observed in the late universe. I will summarize what current data tells us and what we might be able to learn in the future. I will speak about the theory behind these observations.

Matias Zaldarriaga, Institute for Advanced Study

Hosted by Alberto Nicolis